

EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP LEARNING PATH

Executive Leadership is defined as those leaders that oversee all aspects of the organization. They are the final decision-makers on matters that affect the entire organization.

Continuous learning is something that everyone should strive for in their professional and personal life. When we get stuck in life and are not sure what to do, we need help in getting on the path to success.

WHO NEEDS TO COMPLETE THIS LEARNING PATH?

- All Executive Leadership

WHEN DO I NEED TO COMPLETE THIS LEARNING PATH?

- New Employees Only – Required training for new employees needs to be completed within one (1) year of date of hire, with New Employee Orientation to be completed within 35 days of start date and Computer Skills Training within 6 months of start date. *Check the training calendar for time sensitive trainings.
- Required Trainings (All Employees) – Required trainings for each learning path need to be completed within one (1) year of date of hire, with annually recurring trainings to be completed within one (1) year of employment anniversary date. *Check the training calendar for time sensitive trainings. Required trainings are part of a job specific learning path and must be viewed during company time.
- Learning Electives - Learning electives are part of every employees learning path and must be done on your own time if not business related.
- Continuous learning is an active and ongoing process of self-directed informal or formal learning for the purpose of self-awareness, personal improvement and professional development.
